SPANISH BELT WEEKLY REPORT

The report of operations of the Consolidated Spanish Belt Silver Mining company for the week ending June 14th follows:

San Pedro.—In the east face of the 145 foot level we have completed timbering and crosscut is now being extended. The formation is harder and not so badly faulted as it has been. An open cut on the Liguria summit several hundred feet to the east of San Pedro east face shows some stringers of high grade. A sample ran $123, the values being in chlorides and bromides of silver. Further work is being done at this point. The shaft was advanced 6 feet with one shift making a total depth now 287 feet. The bottom is in very hard altered limestone and we are making arrangements to put in an air line from the compressor plant at the Barcelona tunnel.

We are replacing timbering in main crosscut wherever needed. Work on the mill is making good progress. We expect to have wires strung on the power lines within the week.

TEACHER TAKES OMAHA POSITION

Miss Mamie Sullivan, supervisor of writing and mathematics in the Tonopah high school, took her departure this morning for Omaha where she takes the position of teacher of mathematics in one of the high schools with a three hour course of instruction daily at a salary of $2500 a year. Miss Sullivan was regarded as one of the most earnest teachers in the local school where she not alone taught two branches in the high school but had supervision of writing in the grades and conducted a class in writing for the teachers after regular school hours. J. W. ADAMS DIES IN BERKELEY

BERKELEY, June 19.—Jewett W. Adams, former governor of Nevada, died last night at his home in this city from hardening of the arteries which finally attacked the heart. Gov. Adams had been suffering for some time from gall stones. He is survived by an adopted daughter.

Governor Adams was 87 years of age and one of the leading land owners in Nevada. His ranges extended over White Pine, Lincoln and Elko counties are estimated to cover 40,000 acres. Beginning life on the Comstock when the bonanza kings were in power Mr. Adams became interested in cattle and soon accumulated a fortune which can only be conjectured. This was in the days when stock sold at less than ten dollars a head and alfalfa was known to have sold as low as $1.75 a ton. He was elected lieutenant governor with "Long Horn" Bradley, and succeeded to the position of chief executive on the death of Bradley. After this he was elected to the office of governor for two terms making his official career extend over twelve years. Having disposed of his cattle interests the governor engaged in sheep and wool raising taking into partnership the owner of an adjoining range and establishing the firm of Adams & McGill under which name the business is still conducted. Mr. Adams is not known to have been a member of any fraternal societies. His word was as good as his bond and he was gifted with a remarkably retentive memory which enabled him to recall the name, date and place of meeting. He was honored for many benefactions which were modestly bestowed. The interment will be at Berkeley where the home was established after the governor removed from Carson City.
